[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JAN. 19.

EASTERN STATES.

The Custom House Investigation.

NEW YORK, Jan 18.—The Custom House Investigating Committee had Surveyor Cornell before them to-day. He testified that he had been to every State Convention for ten years. There were six Custom House officers at the Convention last year as delegates, and probably forty or fifty more who were not delegates. His opinion is that no Custom House patronage was used to control the State Convention. Greeley's statement that our Custom House officers were traveling about is incorrect. He said whenever he had proof or reasonable suspicion of corruption of any officer he recommended his removal.

New York News.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The run on the Third Avenue Savings bank continues, but is decreasing. About $2,000,000 have been paid out.

The appearance of Eldridge T. Gerry as one of the counsel for Stokes, indicates that the theory of the defense requires much elaboration of detail.

It is said that the pressure of freight occasioned by the railroad blockade will compel the Pacific Mail Co. to charter another steamer to go to Aspinwall, on the 28th.

The excitement at Fordham College over two attempts to assassinate a student named Bencise, from St. Louis, by an unknown person, is great.

Maryland Senator.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 18.—The Legislature, in Joint Convention, to-day again balloted for U. S. Senator with no result. The highest vote given for any candidate was 15.

The Democratic caucus to-night nominated G. R. Dennis, present State Senator from Somerset County. He received 53 votes on the second ballot. This settles the matter.

Arraignment of Fisk's Murderer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—There is a great crowd at the Court of Oyer and Terminer to witness the arraignment of Stokes for the murder of Fisk. He was brought to court in a close carriage and arraigned. Counsel asked for a postponement, as they had not seen the indictment. The case was adjourned till Wednesday.

Catacazy sails for Europe on Saturday.

Interested parties wrote from Philadelphia that a proposition was made to take $600,000,000 of the United States loan on the same terms that the $130,000,000 was taken by the syndicate, but that Boutwell has made no decision in the matter.

Miscellaneous Eastern News.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—There were fifteen proposals for government bonds, amounting to about $14,394,390, from $108 67 to $110 95. The amount advertised for purchase is $1,000,000, and if bought will go at 107 67, the market price of gold.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan 18.—The city is very quiet to-day.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—Wm. M. Tweed passed here going west last night.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A petition was presented from the Society of Friends in their annual meeting asking in national disputes a reference to arbitration in lieu of the sword. Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and it will have probably a favorable report.

The Postoffice appropriation bill is reported as the special order for Wednesday, and provides $26,225,756, including $500,000 for the China mail, $150,000 for Brazil, and $75,000 for the Sandwich Islands. The pension bill reported appropriates $30,430,000, and is the special order for Thursday.

In the Senate, Trumbull, from the Judiciary Committee, reported adversely to women suffragists asking to be heard before the Senate, and asking that the Committee be discharged from its consideration. He promised an early report upon the claim that women have the right to vote under the Constitution as amended.

Cole, from the Postal Committee, reported favorably on the bill subsidizing steamship service to Australia via Honolulu.

Davis of Kentucky gave notice that it was his intention to call up at an early day the resolution inquiring as to the dereliction of duty on the part of the President.

Wilson introduced a bill allowing women to vote and hold office in the Territories.

The amnesty bill came up and was laid over.

Miscellaneous Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The Farragut prize case in the Supreme Court of this District was today referred to a board of arbitrators with the understanding that parties may appeal from the decision of the Board to the Supreme Court of the United States.

In the American and Mexican claim Commission to day several American claims were rejected upon its appearance that the injuries complained of were inflicted by the Maximilian authorities for whose acts the Mexican Republic is not held to be liable.

The Committee of Ways and Means had before them representatives of the tobacco interests of the country. The question of bonded warehouses coming up, the meeting was postponed in order to give opponents of the system an opportunity to present their views, which will be done. A majority of Western manufacturers are opposed to the system.

The Committee on Appropriations, will report all bills at the earliest possible period, so that Congress may have ample time to discuss and pass them in view of adjournment by the first of June.

The Malohac is at the Navy Yard, and has on board her officers. Steam is up. Though she has been lying here for five years, yet her machinery and gun-pivots work as smoothly as when she was in active service.

The Senate to-day confirmed the nomination of J. M. Carey as Associate Judge of Washington Territory, and W. J. Flint, of Missouri, Consul to Chin Kiang.

Two Senate Committee of Postoffices have decided to report probably to-morrow on the so-called Hubbard postal telegraph bill without any except trifling amendments.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Senator Carpenter argued the case of Myra Bradwell against the State of Illinois in the Supreme Court. The case involved the question of woman's rights under the 14th and 15th amendments. It was contended that by virtue of these amendments all, without distinction of color and sex, and women without reference to marriage, are entitled to practice any trade, profession or pursuit which she may choose. In the case of the plaintiff, a married woman, and editress of a paper in Illinois, judgment was refused on the ground that, as a married woman, she could not be held liable on contracts with her clients. The complaint was heard in review and Senator Carpenter took occasion to declare his views in favor of woman suffrage.

The first public evening reception by the President at the Executive Mansion, took place this evening and was largely attended.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

French Affair.

VERSAILLES, Jan. 18.—A compromise will probably be made in the Assembly on the bill for taxing raw material. It is understood that England is pledged not to raise the duties on French wines imported into that country whatever may be the result of the tariff controversy.

The suppression of the Gaulois and Constitutionnel is exciting indignant remark.

The Courier de France says the Government entertains the idea of ceding a monopoly of the sale of tobacco to Rothschild and several other bankers for a period of 30 years upon condition that they furnish sufficient funds to immediately pay the German war indemnity.

Austrian Affairs.

VIENNA, Jan. 18.—Count Von Andrassy received a deputation of Catholics to-day, and in reply to their address declared that the Pope was under no restraint as was shown by the recent appointment by him of a committee of thirty Bishops. The relations between Austria and Italy are on good footing. He knew of no Catholic power which could be justified in offering the Pope an asylum.

A Trade Mark Convention between Austria and the United States has been submitted to the Diet at Pesth for ratification on part of the Kingdom of Hungary.

Spanish Affairs.

MADRID, Jan. 18.—The Ministry have directed the Governors of Provinces to suppress the Internationalists within their jurisdiction, but at the same time not to interfere with the liberty of speech, and to take no notice of the simple enunciations of the International party, as the laws of Spain provide no punishment for such utterances. Sagasta, regent, and Marshal Seranno are having a conference to-day. Much importance is attached to the meeting.

Insurrection in India.

BOMBAY, Jan. 18.—The dangerous revolt among the the Rookahs of India has been suppressed by troops who marched direct to the head quarters of the rebels and completely defeated them, killing one hundred and taking several hundred prisoners. Quiet now prevails.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—Gold, 108¾. Bonds, 110@112; Greenbacks unchanged.

The Call has the following special dispatch:

"DENVER, Col., Jan. 18.—Duke Alexis arrived here from Cheyenne by special train yesterday, accompanied by Admiral Passiet, W. T. Machin, Count Olsenfieff, Count Budisco, Count Chauvakoff, and five servants. Also by Phil Sheridan, Gens. Forsyth, G. W. Custer and S. Weitze; Cols. M. H. Sheridan, H. Forsyth and Dr. Arch. To-day they visited the Holly Water Works and other places. A grand ball is to be given in honor of the distinguished party to-night. They will visit the gold and silver mines to-morrow and leave for San Francisco on Sunday. Alexis and suite will go to Havana via Panama.

Prime Minister Mikawaga and the Japanese Princes attracted much attention at the California Theater last night. The ladies were gorgeously dressed and withstood the impertinent lorgnetting of the audience with real or well implied indifference. They have more good breeding than was displayed by some of our own ladies.

The jury in the Dr. Trash-Fair case rendered a verdict for the plaintiff for balance due for medical services of $312 50, or ten per cent. of what he claimed. There is a very strong feeling among the mass of physicians of San Francisco on the subject of this case, and opinions not flattering to one of the parties are freely expressed by prominent medical men who have the honor of the profession at heart.

SHORT PARAGRAPHS.

Present number of National Banks, 1,767; with an aggregate capital of $430,390,301.

The convicts of the Massachusetts penitentiary sent $600 to the general relief fund for Chicago sufferers, a remarkable instance of charity.

Chicago is the second city in the Union as regards its postal business. The Postmaster reports to the Department 1,127,578 letters delivered for the month of November, a greater number than has ever been reported heretofore.

The annual report of the Chief of the Bureau of Statistics on Commerce and Navigation, for the fiscal year 1871, states the total value of and duty on the principal articles consumed during the year ending June 30, 1871, to be—value, $518,759,518, duty, $202,446,673.

It is probable that the French payment to Germany, if it effects no other purpose, will result in naturalizing, in the English language, the word milliard, to mean one thousand millions. The word billion, though properly meaning a million millions, is as often used to mean a thousand millions, and it is particularly important to fix the meaning of arithmetical expressions. For this purpose, the milliard should be accepted as a Godsend.

Cheap fuel, a problem of great importance to the treeless region of Dakota and Montana, has been solved to some extent by the surveys for the Northern Pacific Railroad. General Rosser, chief engineer of the company, reports inexhaustible beds of semi-bituminous coal west of the Missouri on the line of the road. He estimates that upon the completion of transportation facilities the cost of laying it down in St. Paul will not exceed $3 per ton, calculating the cost of transportation at one-half cent a mile per ton.

On the Michigan Central Road, for over sixteen years past, not a drop of blood has been drawn from man, woman or child inside the cars, and just now the modus operandi is especially important. At all hours of the day and night there sits an operator in the Kalamazoo station (midway of the line), who receives telegraphs from each train on the road the instant it enters or leaves a station, so that he holds or starts at will. His eye is literally on the entire line continually making a collision next to an impossibility, and the immense single track is quite equivalent, so far as safety is concerned, to the double track roads. The twelve and sixteen wheel coaches, admitting of the breaking of almost any one of the wheels without disabling the track, constitute also no small item in the aggregate of immunity from peril.

Can We Trust Them?

[From the New York Times.]

One of the really comic features of the opposition to the Administration is the humble appeal which the members of it make every now and then for "fair play." These worthy persons sit down and invent lies all day long about Gen. Grant; they abuse him and everybody connected with him to their hearts' content; they gather up every fragment of idle gossip, and retail it to the world as truth; it is part of their business to defame any man or any journal which takes the unwarrantable liberty in a free country of defending the Government against slanderers. In this kind of work a daily Republican paper of this City takes the lead, and a weekly paper brings up the rear. We believe most people will admit that the President has gone through a hot fire of abuse lately. The Nation, which is never happy except when it is snapping and snarling at him, now coolly turns about and complains that the President's defamers are very much ill-used, and says all they ask is that they shall be protected from "imputations on their honesty, and purity, and political soundness." Poor, ill-used creatures! They are at liberty to deal in slander by wholesale and retail, but you must not say a word about their own claims to the respect of their fellow citizens. Is not their case a very hard one?

Look at the last assault made upon the Administration. It was a sharp trick to transfer the cause of civil service reform from the hands of the President into the hands of those spotless politicians, Schurz, Tipton and Fenton. We said at the time, and we say again, that if the nominations to office which these Senators have made could be laid bare to the public gaze, they would stand disgraced before the people. This, the weekly doctrinate paper already referred to, says is a "threat." It adds, in effect, "We who oppose the administration may slander when and whom we please; but you, on the other side, must not even be allowed to tell the truth." Nevertheless, it is a fact that Senator Schurz has made about as many nominations to office as any man who has been an equal time in the Senate, and it is only because he did not get offices enough that he quarreled with the President. Senator Tipton is in the same boat. He, being of a less cunning nature than Schurz, frankly admitted the cause of his grievance in the Senate the other day.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

New York News

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—It is proposed to move a resolution in the Legislature declaring Tweed's place vacant if that gentleman does not soon present himself. When he does his expulsion will be moved.

The Election Committee at Albany have summoned Tweed to appear before them on the 25th of January.

A committee from the Legislature is to meet in this city.

The Times says further fraud is discovered in the Department of Public Works growing out of four contracts for iron pipes, concluded under the auspices of Tweed, whereby the city is robbed of $120,000.

The Harrisburg dispatch that Tweed passed through that place for the West is untrue. Tweed was in town last night.

Chicago Affairs.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—The City Council finally passed the fire ordinance which fixes the fire limits much nearer the center of the city than the one proposed by the class of people who gave bad council on Monday night.

Mayor Medill yesterday received an anonymous letter from San Francisco, in which the writer confesses to having set fire to Mrs. O'Leary's barn on the night of the great fire. The letter was dropped into the San Francisco office without a stamp, and the postage was paid by the Young Men's Christian Association. The man is evidently insane.

After a week spent in hearing dilatory motions on the part of the defense, a jury was yesterday empanneled in the case against the Aldermen charged with bribery. The defendant in this case is Alderman Gleade, of the present Council. He pleaded not guilty.

CHICAGO, Jan. 19.—A Times Washington special says Secretary Fish has asked for a sufficient appropriation to pay the expenses of the Japanese Embassy, just arrived in this country, during their stay here, thus making them the guests of the Government.

A Tribune Washington special says it is asserted as a fact that Horace Greeley has refused to sign the call for the National Republican Convention.

The frigate Guerrier, late of the European squadron, is expected at Fortress Monroe within a week. She brings the remains of Gen. Robt. Anderson. Her Captain will be ordered before a court of inquiry, or put on trial at once before a court martial for his conduct in allowing his men to run ashore and for other offenses.

The Senate Postal Committee did not get through the Postal Telegraph bill in time for it to be reported to-day, as was anticipated. An amendment has been agreed to which allows a Company to be incorporated under the bill to buy up the existing lines at whatever rates may hereafter be agreed upon. The bill will now be reported by Pomeroy on Monday next.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—F. Wood, one of the proprietors of the Brooklyn Hotel, who died suddenly, paid up his overdue premium of $300 on his life policy for $10,000, on the day previous.

Over 400 ladies accompanied the Japanese excursion party to Vallejo, Mare Island, and other points to-day. At last accounts the excursionists were having a gay time.

Saski, Chief Justice of Japan, with his special suite, did not accompany the party, but went on a tour of inspection of the City Hall, Calaboose, Police headquarters and Courts. The rogues gallery struck him as being a peculiarly useful institution, and he ordered notes to be taken by his Secretary of the system for its introduction into Japan.

The largest cargo of flour ever shipped from San Francisco for China was cleared on the ship Matchless to-day. It aggregates 1,642 tons, valued at $100,000, it was nearly all purchased by Chinese dealers on their own account.

The increase of foreign trade in San Francisco for 1871, was $9,002,796, of which $7,123,537 was Chinese trade.

It is decided that the San Francisco Cadets, Capt. McDonald, shall give an exhibition ball at Platt's Hall before the Japanese Embassy on Tuesday evening.

San Francisco tobacco importers have determined to appeal to Washington for redress of what they consider an imposition which they are subject to at the custom house, on imported tobacco brought in bond from the East. The Inspector is allowed five cents per keg by law for his trouble in handling, pasting labels, stamping, etc., instead of which they have been charged two-thirds of a cent per pound, which they claim gives the Inspector an income of eighteen hundred dollars per month more than he is entitled to by law.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 19.—Vannes presented a petition from residents of San Luis Obispo for the passage of the trespass law.

A bill was presented by Tuttle to amend the act of April 19, 1856, concerning estray animals.

Fowler sent to the desk a written statement which was read by the Clerk in which it is stated that in the heat of debate yesterday he used objectionable and derisive language towards Senator Pendegast. He asked for permission to withdraw the language used, and to tender an apology to the Senate and the Senator for having uttered it. He expressed sincere sorrow that the occasion had occurred to render an apology necessary.

M. E. Jimenez has been appointed Assistant Journal Clerk of the Senate.

The whole amount of capital stock invested in the cotton and woolen mills of Lowell, Mass., will not vary much from $14,000,000. There are about fifty mills and other connected buildings, and the whole number of spindles is nearly, if not quite, 550,000; looms 13,000. The number of females employed in the mills is 9,000, and males over 6,000. The number of yards made per week is 2,250,000 of cotton goods, about 22,000 of woolen, 35,000 of carpeting, and 2,500 shawls. There are also 11,000 dozen of hose made per week. The consumption of raw cotton is equal to 625,000 lbs per week, and of wool, 97,000 lbs. The number of yards dyed and printed per annum is 51,691,200. The number of tons of anthracite coal consumed every year is fully 40,000; the amount of charcoal, 18,100 bushels, and about 1,875 cords of wood. About 102,576 gallons of oil, 1,980,000 lbs of starch, and 1,275 bbls of flour, are also used every year in prosecuting the different branches of this great manufacturing business.

PENNSYLVANIA OIL PRINCE.—When oil was first struck, on the 26th of August, 1859, few people imagined the vast wealth it was to bring to the country, and the millionaires it was to make. One of the notablest of these, Jas. Tarr, died a few days ago at Meadville, Pennsylvania. The history of the "Tarr Farm," as oil producing, dates from June, 1861. It embraces 198 acres. In August, 1851, Mr. Tarr sold half of it for $20,000 to Clark & Sumner, of New York. They sold one-third of their interest to some Rochester people for $35,000; but the rapid decline in the price of oil made them regret their purchase, and they resold to Clark & Sumner for the price they gave. New wells were continually developed, and Mr. Tarr accumulated a great fortune. In the Fall of 1865, when gold was worth $2 50, he was offered $800,000 gold for the fee simple of the farm—equivalent to $2,000,000. He refused it.

Senator Corbett on Civil Service Investigation.

The following paragraphs are extracts from remarks made in the Senate by Mr. Corbett during the recent debate on civil service investigation:

Among other things in the resolution offered by the Senator from Illinois the committee were instructed to inquire—

Generally how and to what extent the expenses of the service of the country may and ought to be curtailed.

In the face of this resolution, we had the Senator from Massachusetts urging a bill here the other day to give ten hours' pay to persons who had only worked eight hours. The Senator from Massachusetts is in favor of taxing the men of this country who work ten, twelve, and fourteen hours daily to pay people in Massachusetts working for the Government full pay for eight hours' labor. He is in favor of taxing the farmers of the western prairies and the mechanics throughout the country, who work for their daily bread and to supply their families, to supply the necessaries to carry on political warfare.

What does the next portion of this resolution provide? It provides that this committee shall also consider the expediency of so amending the laws under which appointments to the public service are now made as to provide "for withdrawing the public service from being used as an instrument of political or party patronage."

What is the eight hour law but "an instrument for political and party patronage?" Is it not for the purpose of giving places to persons who seek employment in the Government and allowing them to work eight hours, paying them for ten hours' labor? It seems to me that the Senator from Massachusetts ought to have sustained the amendment offered by the Senator from Illinois to that bill to repeal the eight hour law. It is true he afterward withdrew his amendment, but the Senator from Connecticut [Mr. Ferry] renewed it. It may be necessary to refer that bill to the Committee on Retrenchment. Would the Senator from Massachusetts be more suitable for the investigation of that question than the Senator from Connecticut [Mr. Buckingham] who, I believe, favors the repeal of the eight hour law?

Sir, it seems to me that this opportunity has been taken advantage of to make an assault upon those Senators who voted for creating a standing committee, an assault entirely unjust and unworthy of the gentlemen who make it. If we desire to reform abuses we will support any measures that may be presented at any time for reducing the operations or the expenses of this Government in whatever Department it may be, or wherever that labor may be situated, whether in Massachusetts or in any other State.

It seems to me that it is necessary for us now to commence a revolution in this respect. I desire to go as far as any other gentleman in prosecuting these investigations; but I have been of the belief that a standing committee of the Senate would be more efficient and less unwieldy than a joint committee. For that reason I favored a standing committee. I am in favor of giving them all the necessary powers to prosecute, during this session of Congress, these investigations in every way, to give them power to send for persons and papers, if that is necessary, but I do not believe that that power should be permanently lodged with such a committee. It might be abused. My impression has been that it would be better to instruct the committee by resolution to investigate into charges that may be preferred, and direct them to proceed at once with the investigation of such charges.

The resolution of the Senator from Illinois covers a large extent of ground. It does not direct the committee to commence at any particular point. Under it the committee could pass by the abuses which exist now, and which we desire to have investigated immediately, that we may see what checks and guards can be thrown around the Departments to prevent peculation and fraud. I think it is necessary that this committee should be instructed to investigate the defalcation in the Treasury Department, to see what checks and guards can be provided against robbery of that Department; and I think they should be directed to examine, as proposed by the Senator from New York, the Hodge defalcation. That investigation should be proceeded with at once. I do not suppose that it is contemplated that this committee should go to distant portions of the country to search out some abuses there and leave these unchallenged and unexamined. Therefore I have thought it better that we should by resolution direct the examination by the committee of certain specific abuses that we know of, rather than have them searching out those that we know not of.

For these reasons I have been inclined to vote for a standing committee, believing that it would be better and more efficient than a joint committee. I shall therefore vote for the appointment of this committee as it now stands. If it is deemed necessary to give another Democrat an opportunity upon the committee to examine into any abuses that they may desire to examine into, I certainly shall have no objection to that. I court investigation, and I presume that the Administration court investigation. We know that they desire to prevent corruption. If Senators on the other side will name any specific abuses, we will appoint as many committees as they desire to investigate them; but where general charges are made, without specific abuses being pointed out, it is difficult for a committee to roam over this entire extent of country and search them out. I hope, therefore, that this committee will be appointed, and that we shall proceed with this examination.

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 20, 1872.

The Dismissal of Catacazy.

At last the country is to get rid of Catacazy, the dismissed Russian Minister. He has been before the public in a doubtful character for so long a time, and so much has been said about him that it is a real relief to get him off. As he is now about to depart for good it may be well enough to state for the benefit of Oregon readers the real causes of his dismissal, as the same have been divulged by the publication of official correspondence.

The trouble with him began by the publication in the New York World in November, 1870, of a letter from Washington purporting to describe the political relations between the United States and Russia, and some connection between them and the Alabama negotiations, calling in question the conduct of President Grant and his ministers, and a great deal more. This letter, it was at once guessed, and it is now proved, emanated from Catacazy. Yet Catacazy when it appeared wrote to Mr. Fish denying its authorship, disclaiming all knowledge of its statements and calling them "false and absurd." It came out, however, that the letter was written by a reporter of the World from notes furnished by Catacazy; then the notes after they were written out were handed to Catacazy for revision, and having been revised by him the letter was printed in the World from the copy exactly as received from Catacazy's hand, bearing the marks of his revision. This is declared at length by Mr. George W. Adams, the Washington correspondent of the World, in a letter dated October 28, 1871, included in the correspondence now printed. Mr. Adams observes that "no journalist of experience would transmit, and no journal of high repute would publish these two dozen averments [of the original Washington letter], upon any authentication inferior to that of a member of the Russian cabinet, or that of a Russian envoy to the United States."

There were many other cases in which Catacazy spoke and wrote in a disrespectful manner of the chief officers of our Government and meddled in an impertinent and unjustifiable way with our affairs. For these reasons Secretary Fish demanded his recall. The coming of the Russian Grand Duke postponed it. President Grant was requested by the Emperor of Russia "to tolerate the presence of Catacazy till after the visit of the Grand Duke." The reason for this was that the Emperor was desirous of having a Minister at Washington when his son should arrive, and there was not time to send another representative to take Catacazy's place. To the Czar's request President Grant assented, but on the express condition that he would hold no intercourse with the Minister and would decline to see him except when he was with the Prince, and then would hold no conversation with him. It was understood that on these terms Catacazy might stay till the Prince had finished his travels in the United States.

But the Minister was soon detected in other intrigues and falsehoods; his presence became unendurable, and Secretary Fish wrote to him that his passports would be sent to him at once. This was done, and Catacazy finding himself abruptly dismissed decided to go. After interfering in our negotiations, slandering our officials and being detected in falsehoods, our Government could not permit him to remain.

General Halleck.

General Henry Wager Halleck, whose death the telegraph has announced, was the senior Major-General of the United States Army. He was born near Utica, New York, in 1816, and graduated at West Point in 1839. From 1841 to 1844 he was employed on the fortifications of New York harbor, after which he went to Europe and studied carefully the military establishments of various countries. In 1846 he was sent to California, where he was in active service during the war with Mexico. He was Secretary under the military government of the conquered territory for two years, and in 1849 held a seat in the Convention which assembled to form a State Constitution. In 1854 he resigned his position in the army, and practised law in California till the breaking out of the rebellion in 1861, when he went East and received the appointment of Major General in the army. In November of that year he succeeded Fremont in the command of the Western forces. His operations were not remarkably brilliant, but were on the whole successful. After this he was called to Washington and was appointed General-in-Chief to direct the movements of the various Generals in the field. This post he held till Grant was appointed General-in-Chief of the army. The field service of Gen. Halleck was not extensive, but his services in other capacities were large and valuable. He published many works on various subjects, prominent among which is a treatise on international law and books on various branches of military science.

Swamp Lands.

PORTLAND, Jan. 19, 1872.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

SIR: A few days since I observed an article in your paper entitled "Swamp Land Practice." I cannot but think the article both incorrect and unjust. I speak advisedly when I state that the record of the Board of Commissioners will show that no partiality has been shown in the disposal of lands on account of the politics of applicants. I have for myself and others negotiated for several thousand acres of various descriptions of land, and I have always found the Board just, courteous and accommodating.

Respectfully,

A REPUBLICAN.

[In regard to the case alluded to in the article entitled "Swamp Land Practice," we have only to say that the information therein published came from a person who was himself connected with the case. We could give his name, if required, and he can best compare notes with the correspondent whose communication is presented above.—ED. OREGONIAN.

One of the Democratic papers of our State has an article on the "Mistaken Land Policy" of California. The error of that policy we are told lies in the fact that large areas of lands in California have been bought up by speculators and are held at high prices. The journal alluded to need not have gone out of Oregon to cite instances and point a moral of this kind. Under present land grabbing arrangements in Oregon a condition of things will soon be established like that which is so deplored in our neighboring State. Our Democratic papers needn't waste their sympathy on California.

Mr. Corbett's bill to grant lands to aid in the construction of a wagon road from Yamhill county across the Coast Range to Tillamook proposes to give six sections per mile.

The Mormons.

We recently published a dispatch from Salt Lake to the effect that leading Mormons, discouraged by the result of the prosecutions against polygamists in Judge McKean's United States District Court, had concluded to abandon the polygamous portion of their creed, and to ask of Congress a period of twenty-five years in which to terminate it—a term which was considered sufficient to allow all the long-headed old sinners to die in their iniquities, without being compelled to answer to an earthly tribunal for their manifold sins. But the mails have brought no confirmation of this story; on the contrary, we find in Salt Lake correspondence of the New York Tribune an elaborate defence of the Mormon idea, and an equally labored vindication of the community which has flouted its crimes in the face of Christendom. The writer maintains that all classes of victims—including the chief martyrs, the women, as well as the bishops and elders—are united in support of the delusion which they regard as a divinely authorized religious duty, revealed from heaven to Brigham Young and his successors. Really zealous Mormons deny that polygamous Mormonism is dying out, and they refuse to admit that it can be extinguished at the hand of man. If this be so, the most obvious and cheapest method is to make it for the interest of Brigham Young to have another and later revelation, forbidding all polygamous practices; and if our government had at its disposal the necessary power, by virtue of which Brigham could be continued in his present coveted satrapy, and could exercise it in his favor, the great crime of Utah could doubtless be brought to an end within a twelvemonth, on the condition of his receiving and promulgating the requisite revelation.

But the Mormons understand that they are "hanging on the verge of the government," and that without Brigham they are in a desperate strait. Hence they are endeavoring to enlist sympathy, particularly on the ground of persecution. It is claimed that the Territorial laws under which the recent prosecutions have been conducted never contemplated the construction which has been given them, from the fact that they were enacted by a polygamous legislature, several years after polygamy had been revealed to the Saints, and were signed by Brigham Young, as Governor of the Territory under Millard Fillmore, as a polygamist. All this may be as the Mormons claim; but as their case has been appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States, on this and similar objections, it may yet appear that the common law which is the eternal conspiracy of mankind against immorality and injustice—will cover the case, and ensure the punishment of men who have violated every law in the name of morality and religion.

A Sporting Politician.

Mr. George Wilkes, editor of the New York Spirit of the Times, has descended from his august position as judge of cock fights and referee and stake-holder of pugilistic matches, to take part in politics. He has identified himself with the "passive" or "possum" policy of the Democracy, which he undertakes to lead to victory. The Washington Republican furnishes the following history of the origin of Wilkes' present hostility to the President, and of his general want of faith in the existing order of things:

> Mr. Wilkes desired to go to Mexico as Minister. He ought to have been sent to Mexico, not that we owe our sister republic any ill-will, but cock-fighting is a national institution in Mexico, and Mr. Wilkes would have been entirely at home there; but for some reason or other, Mexico was given to another man, and George felt sore and disappointed. He was not discouraged, however. In a few weeks his application was in for the mission to Spain. It was written on a sheet of paper with the heading of the Spirit on it, together with full particulars about clubs, matches, bottle-holders, and a picture of the prize ring, and of the champion's belt. The State Department was, of course, shocked; and George, it was decided, could not be sent to Spain.
> George is now in exactly the same fix that Charles A. Dana of the New York Sun is. Like Mr. Dana, Mr. Wilkes wanted to serve President Grant as an office holder. The President could not, consistently with his duty to the public, appoint either to the positions they sought, because they were not fit and proper persons to appoint. He offered Mr. Dana the office for which he was eminently qualified, that of a spy upon merchandise. Mr. Dana declined, and turned round and abused the President, who had favored him as far as it was in his power to do so.

The Bulletin of this city has discontinued its morning edition and is now published exclusively as an evening paper. This gives it a field to itself which it worthily fills. Heretofore its forces have been somewhat divided by the publication of both a morning and an evening edition. It has now concentrated them, and patrons may expect a very complete and good evening paper.

We are informed that the name of Hon. J. H. D. Henderson, who was Congressman from this State from 1864 to 1866, will be submitted to the Republican State Convention, soon to assemble, for renomination for that position.

The Glaciers of America.

INTERESTING SPECULATION REGARDING THEIR ORIGIN.

Prof. James D. Dana, the distinguished geologist of Yale, has just published in the American Journal of Science, an interesting and valuable paper "on the position and height of the elevated plateau in which the glacier of New England, in the glacial era, had its origin." The Professor introduces his research with the remark that "the existence of a region of high elevation in Northern America as the source of a continued glacier in the glacial era has often been assumed, but rather because the glacial theory was lame without it than as the result of special research with respect to the extent and indication of such a region." Prof. Dana then concisely gives the direction of the glacial furrows or scratches crossing the Green and White Mountains, and shows that they could not have been made with the land of North America at its present level, and that these scratches on the rocky summit of New England point toward some great region of elevated land, on the slopes of which the stupendous glacier began its southerly motion. He gives it as his opinion that the icy plateau whence the great glacier took its departure must have existed on the western border of Hudson's Bay, and that the glacier moved southeastwardly down the valley of the river Ottawa and on the slopes to the east of it, leaving to this distant day the track of its course engraved deeply in the Rocky Mountain flanks. With from 6,000 to 8,000 feet thickness of ice, the glacier kept on its course, guided only by the general slope of the land, but at the same time moulded itself into the larger valleys, and into many even of the local slopes. The intense cold that is known to have existed in the American glacial era is also naturally accounted for if the land of northern Canada was a great plateau, being an elevation higher than Mount Washington.

The upward movement of the glaciers, which carried the north at least 5,000 feet above its present level, was followed by the slow subsidence of the "Champlain period," when the same lands sunk to a greater extent than they had previously been raised, letting down the Valley of the St. Lawrence about Montreal about 500 feet below its present level, and probably 1,000 feet below its glacial-era level. With this sinking of the land began the melting of the glacier. Owing to the sinking of the surface into the north, northern and southern rivers had their slope greatly lessened, and in some cases made quite level for long distances, and by vast deposits of drift the Niagara and other rivers had their channels so obstructed that they were forced to cut new passages, while other water courses of the glacial era were wholly cut off, as that from the Champlain Lake down the Hudson Valley. Then came the "terrace era," during which the land reached its present level, while the river channels were deepened, and the Lake and river terraces which now cover the continent were formed.

PACIFIC COAST DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—O'Connor, alias O'Brien, was to-day held to answer for robbing a countryman of $100 in a Barbary Coast dead fall. Her bail was fixed at $5,000.

The California Furniture Manufacturing Co., capital $600,000, incorporated to-day.

There is a probability of developments involving parties of considerable importance in this city, growing out of the arrest of a short card operator at Sacramento on a dispatch from San Francisco to-day.

No definite action is yet taken on the subject of receiving the Duke Alexis. Nobody seems to know who is the proper party to take initiatory steps. The Japanese have so thoroughly absorbed the public attention that the demonstration in honor of Alexis is likely to lack somewhat of the enthusiasm which would otherwise have been manifested.

J. Goble, a missionary from the United States to Japan, who returned with the Japanese Embassy, publishes a card calling on the San Francisco Ministerial Union to urge upon the Embassy the propriety of liberating the Christian Japanese now held in bondage on account of their faith, and the repeal of the edicts against Christianity.

The Minister of Justice was treated to a lay out at faro at the office of the Chief of Police to-day. Officer Clark acted as an expert, putting on a mark and manipulating the cards, as the bank one every bet but one. The Japanese decided it was a hogging game.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19.—The weather is cold and clear with light winds.

In the double team race to-day at Agricultural Park, between Alex. Benham and mate, Eugene Casserly and mate and Kittie Tricks and mate, Alex. Benham distanced the other two teams in the first heat. Time—2:45. In the trotting race—mile heats—3 in 5, between Hero, Silverheels and San Quentin, each horse won a heat apiece in the first three; Hero winning the 4th and 5th. running race, half a mile and repeat, between Richmond and Tommy Chandler, which was a closely contested race, Richmond winning by about a length. Each heat time, 53 and 52½.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VALLEJO, Jan. 19.—The Japanese Embassy visited Mare Island this afternoon.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19.—Rafael Botillarez, who murdered his wife was tried in the District Court and found guilty of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be hanged in March.

STOCKTON, Jan. 19.—The Stockton mills commenced manufacturing flannels. A contract has been entered into to furnish 5,000 yards per month.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE, Jan. 19.—The Council to-day substituted for the House bill a joint amendment which passed and was returned to the House. This destroys the proposition submitting the Constitution to the people, and sending delegates to the Republican Convention.

CORINNE, Jan. 19.—The passenger train that left Cheyenne yesterday passed Medicine Bow at 5 p. m., to-day. It has been delayed by snow. One passenger train from the East arrived at Ogden this morning.

PROTECTION TO SAILORS.—A bill, modeled after the British Shipping Act, is now pending in Congress, which deserves the approbation of all who are interested in the welfare of sailors. The bill prohibits kidnapping, protects the seaman from runners and "crimps," and in other respects provides for the better protection of the sailor at sea and in port. This law provides a heavy penalty for shanghaing. Shipping Commissioners are to be appointed under it by the judges of the United States Courts, before whom all persons accused of violating the provisions of the act will be brought. These Commissioners, being appointed by the United States judges, and thus removed as far as possible from political influences and vicissitudes, will be empowered to look after the interests of the sailor and act as his counsel when he has suffered injury at the hands of officers of vessels or of boarding-house keepers, and will also make it their duty to see that his case is duly brought before the courts for action. This bill should certainly be adopted, but with such amendments as would make its enforcement a duty of the United States marshals and their deputies and the United States courts. A new set of commissioners are not needed for these purposes, and it is not wise to needlessly multiply offices even when a good purpose is to be served thereby.

A correspondent at Amelia City, Baker county, writes: This place is unusually quiet at present. However, we notice Hon. A. H. Brown selling quite a quantity of goods, and doing considerable work on his ditch and his reservoirs, placing them in suitable fix to supply this camp with water. At present the prospects are flattering for an extraordinary mining season, as there is an unusual coat of snow on the ground for this season of the year. The great El Dorado canal (or ditch) is at last completed. However, some dissatisfaction prevails among the laboring men. Electioneering has already commenced in this county for "devious and sundry" county offices and promises fair for a "split" in the Democratic party of this county.

Gen. Belknap, Secretary of War, has written a letter to the Secretary of Washington Territory informing him that "it is not contemplated to abandon the post of Fort Colville, and that the present garrison, which is soon to be removed to another station, will be replaced by a force sufficiently powerful to enforce a peaceful attitude from the Indians." This information will be very gratifying to people in that quarter.

WORK of every description in the house finishing line will be done at short notice to the best of satisfaction.

LITTLE HOMES!

WE HAVE OBTAINED MANY TESTIMONIALS, which appear in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN, for the purpose of answering once for all the many inquiries in relation to our "LITTLE HOMES." We desire to show to strangers, through men of known integrity in this community that they are all we claim for them—cheap at present prices, and the speculation in them lies in the future growth of Portland, in the building of Railroads, and Bridges over the Willamette—which is merely a question of time—and in the fact that in less than one mile distant, City Blocks (200 feet square) are selling for from two to three thousand dollars, and in less than two-and-a-half miles (on a direct line) blocks are selling as high as $200,000 per block! Just think of it! $50 per acre for land, and 2¼ miles distant, $200,000 per acre! New York city is over twenty miles in length and six miles wide, and many other cities in the United States are half that long, and quite as wide, and if Portland becomes a metropolis she will require this land for business purposes. Thirty years ago we could have purchased a section of land where the business portion of Chicago now stands for $10 per acre—$50 for a five acre tract. Thirty years ago we could have purchased the town site of Portland for a Cayuse pony—but we didn't have the pony! Twenty years ago a solitary individual, with neither money nor friends, found himself in Portland without a red. He purchased a basket "on tick," and filled it with oranges, on the same terms, and went to peddling. Twenty long, eventful years have since elapsed. Still that sturdy old pioneer has stuck to Portland, and worked his way through thick and thin; and now where do you think he is?—in the poor house, and owes for the basket! But to our

TEN-ACRE TRACTS!

The land is level—some timbered and some nearly clear—its altitude about the same as Portland—good roads—never overflows, and the price is regulated by the quality of the soil and the distance from the city.

Prices:

Five-acre tracts, 1½ miles SE of East Portland $250@300
" " 4 " " " ......$ 75 00
Ten-acre tracts, 4 " East of " " 200 00

PAYMENTS—On each tract, $25 down—balances in monthly installments of $10 each, with interest.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 20, 1872.

A STRANGERS' VIEWS.—An English gentleman of large connections in England, has kindly furnished us with the following, which, considering the source from which it emanates, is highly flattering: "There is every probability that 1872 will show an increase in the direct shipping and commercial relations of Oregon with foreign countries. In the opinion of men accustomed to judge of such matters, there are no physical obstacles to the navigation of your noble rivers, which cannot be easily removed. Your merchants are comparatively wealthy and quite able to put themselves in a position to purchase their requirements in the cheapest market, however distant. Vessels in this port can obtain cargoes of wheat or flour, and they have additionally an advantage which San Francisco cannot offer them, namely: they can get lumber from saw-mills on our rivers, and it is likely that in a short time vessels will be able to load spars from the Columbia river. Ship owners abroad cannot too clearly understand that San Francisco exports, in cargoes, wheat and flour only; Puget Sound, lumber and spars only; but Portland has facilities for supplying all these without a vessel being required to shift ports.

PASSENGERS PER ORIFLAMME.—The North Pacific Transportation Company's steamship Oriflamme left at 1 o'clock this morning with the following passengers: Ben Holladay & servants, J. C. N. Moreland and wife, John Dougherty and wife, Mrs. M. Jacoby, Chas. Kohn, E. Carter, N. Nathan, Isaiah Jacoby, Walter Jacoby, Miss N. Jacoby, I. W. Brady and wife, S. M. Smith, A. Sterritt and wife, Rev. Father Vecloll Borgion, J. W. Ackerman, Phillip Goldsmith, J. B. Currier, Henry Morgan, G. P. Doland, Willie Jacoby, G. Malcolm, Miss Eliza Jacoby, Miss Martin, Rev. G. P. Weaver, Miss Campbell, Mrs. Garrison, R. Weary and wife, D. Waltham, J. S. Dunn, D. Macleay, E. D. Williams, F. Duniway and wife, Wm. Wadhams, John E. Greede, W. F. & Co's Messenger, and 45 in the steerage.

SALVAGE.—The claim of salvage by the tug boat Astoria, in saving from total loss the bark J. A. Falkinburg and cargo, will be allowed, and with that object in view the general average bond was signed yesterday. The amount claimed by the tug boat is $500. From all the information received the claim is just, as the condition of the Falkinburg was the same as those of the barks Industry and Scranton, wrecked at different times in the same locality, some years ago. The officers of the tug boat at the risk of their own lives rescued the Falkinburg from her perilous position for which gallant act too much credit cannot be given.

SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICES.—Rev. Joyslen will preach in the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Taylor street, corner of Fifth, Sabbath evening at half-past seven o'clock. Sabbath school in the morning at half past nine o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Eliot will preach a sermon on the Spirituality and Unity of God.

Rev. Mr. Stewart, of Salem, will officiate morning and evening in the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow. Those who have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Stewart speak in very high praise of him as being not only a forcible speaker but also a finished one.

BADLY BURNED.—A son of Mr. Barr's, living on Fourth street, between Hall and College, was severely burned yesterday. We are informed that the boy Barr, together with another boy, had a tin can with powder in it, and, while playing with it and a lighted paper, the powder was accidentally ignited while his face was over the can. The injuries sustained are not known, as yet, if of a serious character, as the face, from the effects of the explosion, is too badly swollen.

PASSENGERS PER CALIFORNIA.—The steamer California from Puget Sound and Victoria brought the following passengers: Henry A. Quarles, D. Deloum, Mrs. W. E. Rust, A. J. Logan, Wm. Lowe and wife, 51 U. S. Soldiers, Mrs. H. Briggs and two children, Mrs. P. S. Hyde & servant, M. Miller, Mrs. D. Monastes, R. G. Batchelder, A. Paterson, Capt. J. Haskel and wife, Lieut. Johnston, Mrs. Ann M. Bingiman, 4 laundresses and 8 children, 1 Chinaman.

GONE TO EUROPE.—By the steamer of this morning Ben Holladay goes to San Francisco, whence he will go East and to Europe. He will be absent probably three months. During his absence his address will be No. 42, Broadway, New York. His visit to Europe will relate to matters connected with the interests of Oregon, and will without doubt be of great benefit to the State. His friends in Oregon wish him a prosperous voyage and safe return.

CAN IT BE REMEDIED.—A correspondent writing to us thinks manager Waldron should use more effective means to quell disturbances in the theater. Many effective scenes have been marred by the stamping of some person or persons in the audience, and it occurs every night without abatement. Remedy the evil, manager, and the [illegible] loving theater goers will thank you heartily.

POSTPONED.—The case of the State against Stevens, station agent, charged with embezzling $2,100 from the Oregon and California Railroad was on trial before Justice Moreland yesterday. The testimony for the prosecution was all adduced, and by agreement the further hearing was postponed until 1 o'clock P. M. to-day.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.—The Chief Engineer of the Fire Department recommends improvements of various sorts in connection with the Department which would cost the city at a moderate estimate sixty thousand dollars. If these recommendations should be adopted another tax levy for the present year would be a necessity.

TUG BOAT.—The new tug-boat Ben Holladay will be ready for service next week. This boat will fill a want which is claimed by sea Captains, that our city stands greatly in need, viz.: a powerful tug boat for plying on the Columbia river or to act in any other capacity desired.

THE BARK AMELIA.—Capt. Babbidge, of the Fannie Troup, reports the bark Amelia being towed up. She experienced trouble with ice in the Columbia river which appears to be increasing, owing to cold weather.

AT HALF MAST.—The flag at the Headquarters of the Military Department of this State, was displayed at half-mast yesterday, in consequence of the reception of the news of the death of Gen. Halleck.

STREETS DAMAGED.—First street and also Second street, between Hall and Lincoln are in a bad condition. Those having the authority should have them put in repair immediately.

A NUISANCE.—Is there an ordinance to prevent parties burning rubbish in the streets or even to throw rubbish in the road way? We want to know.

FESTIVAL.—The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will hold a festival on Wednesday evening next.

BOOK SALE.—A. B. Richardson & Co. will sell this morning at 10 o'clock a large lot of English works.

PERSONAL.

Captain Flavel, of Astoria, is up on business connected with the tug boat and the bark Jane A. Falkenburg.

Mr. G. Malcolm Sproat, a well known English writer on science and politics, who has been residing in our city for the past two weeks, left on the Oriflamme this morning for San Francisco on his way back to England. Mr. Sproat expresses himself in high terms regarding the capabilities of the State and also of Portland, and unhesitatingly says that with Portland's surroundings, our city has only commenced growing.

Rev. Dr. Atkinson, who went East about two months ago as delegate to the National Council of the Congregational Church, has been detained by the severity of the winter longer than he had expected. Meanwhile he has been pressed into service by the Secretaries of the American Home Missionary Society to deliver a series of addresses upon the general interests of Oregon to awaken a deeper interest there, in our State and in our weak mission churches, who will continue to depend on aid from the East until our population shall become sufficiently strong to sustain them. The friends of Dr. Atkinson may expect him here about the 1st of February.

ROADS TO AND FROM PORTLAND.

The Northwestern Home, published at Vancouver, thinks that "Portland is not doing enough for herself," and in the following remarks undertakes to show how and why. We should observe that these remarks abound with very sensible suggestions: "It strikes an observing person forcibly that Portland's inhabitants and capitalists have done a great deal to advance the interests of that city. San Francisco merchants prefer doing a credit business with houses in Portland, rather than with similar business houses in the interior of her own State, on the very ground that the business men of Oregon are doing a safe and gradually increasing business. Much Portland has yet to do in establishing good roads from place to place such as our own town, etc. The long-continued interruption to navigation has taught the necessity of good overland roads from Portland towards our town. Portland has the most miserable means of getting out in any direction—if river navigation and railroads now in completion be excepted—of any city of its size and growth on the Pacific coast. It is high time that some measures were taken for land communication with surrounding towns, as though the city and country were something more than temporary camping places. The amount of cash dealings that is done in Portland by people of this town and neighborhood is of great importance; a person need only visit the landing of the Vancouver boat in the evening when the boat arrives and see how much is brought over by her passengers, which in average instances amounts to cart-loads. That capitalists of Portland have done almost wonders to obtain, through the skillful maneuverings of her Senators, heavy land grants to build railroads, canals and locks, etc., everybody must acknowledge, which in the true light did not cost them their means, but simply their influence and petitioning. Having obtained all this it would now be in time for them to pay a little more attention to the building of wagon roads to their growing city, and if doing so would experience a further benefit to themselves. At times Portland has been spoken of as being on the Columbia river, and parties stand ready, in fact have stood ready for years to make any amount of affidavits that she is on the Wallamet. Now we hope to see Portland grow to that size that she will extend her city limits to the banks of the Columbia river, a distance of but six miles, and in that event, what is to-day Vancouver would soon be termed, and rightly, too, 'North Portland.'

"If Mr. Holladay would build a good plank road from his ferry landing through East Portland, 'Holladay's Addition,' to the Columbia river, we claim that it would enable him to dispose of his lots and blocks the coming summer at an advanced price, and likely realize more by the building of such road than the cost would be, and thereby surely increase the business of East Portland. We would like to hear what the leading newspapers of Portland and East Portland could say in opposing and supporting this, our humble opinion, that Portland is not doing enough for herself."

For our part we have to say, as we have often said heretofore that Portland is not doing enough towards making good roads and maintaining communication with the country immediately surrounding her. In fact she is doing nearly nothing in this direction. And there is urgent need that she should do much. In this respect Portland might take a lesson even from Victoria, which has established many good roads in different directions. It should never be forgotten that railroads will not supersede the need and the use of wagon roads.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The first smelt of the season appeared in the market last evening.

A mail will be dispatched to the Dalles this morning at 9 o'clock.

The steamer Emma Hayward did not leave for the Cascades yesterday.

The fair weather has had the effect to bring out quite a number of farm wagons.

The steamer Idaho, from the Dalles, did not reach the Upper Cascades yesterday.

The bark Alden Besse flies the China flag in honor of being chartered by a Chinese firm.

We are informed that Rev. Dr. Lindsley will officiate in the Presbyterian Church in Salem to-morrow.

The colored people of this city are making arrangements for the organization of a select social dancing club.

The frame of the roof of Capt. Flander's wharf is up and will be "shingled" by the last of next week.

The Oregon Iron Works are turning out eight stoves per day, which for general use, are equal to the best imported.

Yesterday morning the mercury at the Dalles stood at 27°, while at Walla Walla it was still lower, indicating 23°.

A man named Thompson, in going from here to the Dalles, had one of his feet so badly frozen that amputation will be necessary.

The lady, so we are informed, thrown from Mr. Stevens' carriage, was Mrs. Raveley, wife of the proprietor of the Democratic Era. The injuries sustained are not serious.

AMUSEMENTS.

ONE FINE THEATER.—After considerable preparation and a thorough rehearsal, the great play of "The Octoroon" will be presented this evening. In bringing this piece out the management has gone to more than usual expense. The aid of both painter and carpenter have been invoked, and everything has been done that will insure without doubt the success of the drama. Mr. Waldron will appear as Jacob McCloskey, a character in which he has no rival. His finished and artistic rendition of this difficult role has won for him the loudest praise from the most exacting of critics. Some of them have gone so far as to declare him to be the only Jacob McCloskey on the American stage. Our theater goers will have an opportunity this evening to judge of the correctness of this broad and sweeping assertion. Enoch Arden will be presented this afternoon at the matinee.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE SKATING CARNIVAL.—The ladies and gentlemen who are invited and intend taking part in the "Skating Carnival," to be held on Tuesday next, are requested to meet at the Rink this (Saturday) evening to practice the "Grand March." A full attendance is desired. Tickets for persons invited to participate in the carnival for sale at the Rink this afternoon and evening.

SEWING SCHOOL.—The young ladies who teach in the sewing school which meets at the Unitarian Church Wednesdays and Saturdays, are requested to meet for a special meeting to-day at 1 o'clock. It is hoped that an effort will be made by all to be present, as business of importance is to be presented.

THE FIRST SMELT AT QUINN'S.—Quinn, of the Union Market, Washington street, is, as usual, the first on hand with the delicacies of the season. This time he has the first catch of smelt. Call early, if you would make sure of a mess.

YOU, NEIGHBOR, who are taking your daily ten-cent nip, while you know if you were to die to-morrow you would not leave enough to pay your funeral expenses—that same ten-cent nip, (supposing you are now thirty-five-years old) would pay your wife and children a clean thousand dollars whenever you should die—sooner or later. And if you will let the nip alone and so prolong your life to the age of sixty-five, the thousand dollars will be payable to yourself. There are plenty of men in this community and all about us who ought to think on these things and call on Joseph Middlemiss, Supt. of Agencies for the Pacific Coast—Office 8 Front St., "Central Warehouse."

THE NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY was incorporated in 1835, and is therefore the oldest purely Mutual Life Insurance Company in the United States; it has cash assets of over $10,000,000, and is the only Company on the Pacific Coast governed by the Massachusetts Non-Forfeiture Law, offering all the advantages of age and prudent management, its average expense being lower than any other Company in the United States. It also offers protection against forfeiture by virtue of the MASSACHUSETTS NON-FORFEITURE LAW, which is a feature of great importance, and should be carefully considered by all persons seeking Insurance. TESTIMONIALS.

We the undersigned having been the recipients of the services of Mrs. M. C. White in teaching the science of Music on the Pianoforte, take pleasure in giving a hearty Testimonial that we have employed her in our families as a teacher of her "New Method of Instruction," and that it has proven superior to any method we have ever known. And that although the first cost may be a trifle greater than some others, we believe it to be in the aggregate much cheaper, beside being a great economy in point of time. We therefore, take pleasure in recommending her to the patronage of all who may be desirous of obtaining a musical education, as a very superior instructor.

To those who desire to know more about it before increasing any expense, we give a cordial invitation to call at our house and interview her pupils.

For reference see advertisement.

NAT. H. LANE, East Portland.

EAST PORTLAND, Jan. 8, 1872.

MRS. M. C. WHITE—Respected Madam—Having heard of your System of teaching the Pianoforte, known as the Robins' American Method, and having been present a few days since, at the exercises of one of your pupils, Miss Lane, of East Portland, I was much surprised and exceedingly gratified, at the perfect performance of the most difficult pieces, (such as Gotschalk Bango, etc.) and this after the short term of six months tuition.

Allow me to express my approbation of your System of your Instruction, and with my best wishes for your success allow me to subscribe myself,

Yours Respectfully,
TH. PARROT, Prof. of Music,
ja4d1m and Leader of the East Portland Band.

Throw in Reinforcements.

The Citadel of Life is in a state of siege all through the year, but is never more closely invested than in midwinter. The liver is usually somewhat torpid, and the bowels more or less constipated at this season, and dyspepsia often assumes its most aggravated form in cold and wet weather. In short, the sluggish system seems inclined to intermit or shirk some of its most important duties under the influence of a low temperature, and requires wholesome stimulation. The spur required is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the only medicine which quickens the action of the secretive organs, and brings out the latent vitality of the system, without creating any febrile symptoms, or the slightest nervous excitement.

The great Vegetable Tonic is not recommended as a specific for Coughs, Colds and Consumption—that field being left open to the concoctors of preparations which cannot by any possibility reach the lungs! but as a specific for the constitutional and physical weakness which invite pulmonary disease, it is literally infallible. The most insidious and terrible enemy of human life is not disease itself, but the weakness which enables it to gain a firm foothold of the vital system. Remember that Stamina, Vital Energy—the life principle, or whatever you may choose to call the resistant power which battles against the causes of disease and death, is the grand safeguard of health. It is the garrison of the human fortress, and when it waxes weak, the true policy is to throw in reinforcements. In other words, when such an emergency occurs, commence a course of Hostetter's Bitters.

MATRIMONIAL ITEMS.

A marriage is published in the Buffalo papers to which is affixed the words, "No cards, no nonsense."

"Why," asked a disconsolate widow, "is venison like my late and never sufficiently-to-be-lamented husband?" "Because—oh dear! oh dear!—its dear departed!"

A young lady, on her way to be married, was run over and killed. An elderly single lady savagely remarked, "She has escaped a more lingering and horrible destiny."

A pretty, rich young widow, was regarding herself lately at a mirror in her chamber, while for the first time trying on her widow's cap. "Behold," she exclaimed, "the real cap of liberty!"

"You don't think so highly of the hymenial knot as I do," said a wife to her husband. "Yes I do," he replied; "it is only when you wish to make it a double beau knot that I object to it."

"Misfortunes never come single,"
And so, like birds of a feather,
The marriages and the deaths
Are always printed together.

"You are beautiful and I adore you," said a gentleman to the belle of the evening. "For my part, I hate you, and think you frightful," she retorted. "I believe you, you frank girl. You do not tell polite falsehoods like [illegible]"

Here is a beautiful instance of conjugal affection. A married lady in Connecticut recently fell into a river, and would have been drowned except that her cries attracted the attention of her husband, who, mistaking her in the dark for another woman, worked like a beaver to get her out.

Neither God nor man expects a wife to submit to brutality, but a woman who, finding herself outgrowing her husband or disappointed in him, yet takes up the cross and, fitting her shoulders to it, bears it in silence to her life's end, has joys the world knows not of, and reaches the highest type of womanhood.—Elizabeth K. Churchill.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Portland, Friday Evening, Jan. 19, 1872.

Gold in New York, 109.

Legal Tender quotations, 90½c buying and 91½c selling.

The bark Harrington will have cargo in by January 23d.

The bark [illegible] was towed up to-day from Kalama. We gave her [illegible] in our issue of January 9th.

The Jane A. Falkinburg's [illegible] of [illegible] freight is coming out in fine condition. [illegible] half of it will go into bond. The salvage claimed by the Bar tug of $6,000 will be granted by the owners of the Falkinburg and the consignees of her cargo, on the ground that the claim is just.

The steamer California is announced to leave on Jan. 22 for Victoria and Sound ports.

The fair weather for the last two days is causing receipts of Hay to be quite liberal, and with its continuance prices, without a fair demand, will recede from former rates, unless our farmers do as those in our sister State, that is, not attempt to force sales, but put their shipments in the hands of commission merchants, with [illegible] not to force the market, and only sell at current rates.

[illegible] advices under date of Dec. 17th, 1871, say that American Railway Bonds show more animation, with decided improvements established in several. A good [illegible] existed for Oregon, Kansas, St. Louis, Southwestern, Central Pacific, and the Chicago lines of railroads, with a rising tendency noted in all. In the [illegible] Oregon and California is quoted ¼c. higher than the previous week's quotations.

Some time ago, on authority of an English commercial journal, we stated that the Cotton crop in India was a partial failure. According to a recent review of the Times of India the crop in Turkistan is said to have failed last year. Formerly [illegible] 180,000 bales were sent to Russia, but this year only 60,000 bales have been sent. If the report of [illegible] consumption of Cotton by Russia [illegible], which we have no doubt of, another consumer [illegible] for American Cotton will be in the field this year, [illegible] prices East to still further advance.

During the fore part of harvest we called the attention of our [illegible] from Spain, stating that that country, which for the past few years has been [illegible] Wheat to meet the home consumption, was [illegible] as having a large surplus this season. Since then we have [illegible] further information, until this [illegible] from Europe brings us the news that owing to the prolific character of the late harvest, large [illegible] of Wheat were [illegible] to France. Meanwhile, an abundance of rain which had just been experienced [illegible] year of good crops. Our advices [illegible] that trade was active throughout [illegible] generally doing well. The [illegible] to the exportation of Wheat fully [illegible] to the early part of the [illegible] Wheat surplus of Spain was placed high [illegible] to cover all of France's [illegible] requirements, as the [illegible] of France, as made in the month of August, were in October [illegible] further reduction was made, as the [illegible] roots and vegetables, and also that the crops turned out as a whole better than was at first [illegible].

[illegible] advices of Dec. 13th of further advances in Tin and Copper have [illegible] a proportionate rise in the [illegible] these metals enter, such as [illegible] Metal, Wire, [illegible], etc., and have even affected the value of finishing [illegible] usually does not move with the fluctuations of the [illegible] market. Brass founders have for the first time in five years, decided to reduce the [illegible] from their price lists 5 per cent. all round, which is equivalent to an advance on their net prices of from 7½ to 10 per cent. Hollowware manufacturers have [illegible] a reduction of 2½ per cent. in their discount [illegible] of 5 per cent. in the value of net goods, and of 10s per ton in goods sold by weight. Nickel manufacturers have advanced the price of that metal to [illegible], which was [illegible] of 25 per cent. in the past twelve months, and, as a [illegible] of that rise, German Silver has [illegible] for all [illegible] advances are active in nearly all the Hardware [illegible] as well by the excellence of [illegible] as by the firmness of Metals. Merchants in England are [illegible] complaining loudly of the [illegible] by them [illegible], which necessarily throw a large [illegible] coming to hand at former prices out of the [illegible] owing to the [illegible] trade being so active, [illegible] to the export branch and will [illegible] on the advance [illegible]

The London Times in an editorial thus refers to the advance:

Tin has now reached the highest price known to the oldest Tin buyers in Cornwall, and there are a few whose [illegible] half a century. There is a general opinion in well informed quarters that at present [illegible] higher prices. Concerning Copper, there is now a [illegible] deal of excitement. Wednesday's advance of £10 having already led to fresh operation in [illegible] some of the [illegible]. There is no doubt that Cornwall could [illegible] the return of [illegible] the large number of operators that have [illegible] the last three years.

It would appear, from the remarks of the Times that the advance in Copper is not so thoroughly established as that in Tin and towards the close of the year may result [illegible] more extensive mining. This advance in [illegible] may also stimulate [illegible] mining on this coast on a larger scale than ever before.

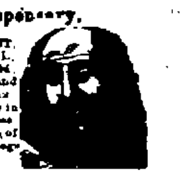
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice of his Dispensary, on Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his [illegible] may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from [illegible] absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation [illegible] until death closes the scene. Let parents and guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies, [illegible] they are cured [illegible] and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to [illegible] who are afflicted [illegible] to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to beware of the many pretended doctors who [illegible] publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and strict in inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of [illegible] charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] the consequence of self-[illegible], this solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited [illegible] producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If [illegible] not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure affected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these [illegible] maladies, should not forget the sacred [illegible] upon them [illegible] to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give a permanent written instrument, binding himself [illegible] a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in a registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who, with bogus sworn certificates, dupe the [illegible] of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are [illegible] and [illegible] Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, Intelligence office [illegible]. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutions in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1864 and 1865. The only way to avoid [illegible] is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians in nine cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them, unless you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, [illegible] pretended patents, letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat disease that he proposes to cure.

MATRIMONIAL ITEMS.

A marriage is published in the Buffalo papers to which is affixed the words, "No cards, no nonsense."

"Why," asked a disconsolate widow, "is venison like my late and never sufficiently-to-be-lamented husband?" "Because—oh dear! oh dear!—its dear departed!"

A young lady, on her way to be married, was run over and killed. An elderly single lady savagely remarked, "She has escaped a more lingering and horrible destiny."

A pretty, rich young widow, was regarding herself lately at a mirror in her chamber, while for the first time trying on her widow's cap. "Behold," she exclaimed, "the real cap of liberty!"

"You don't think so highly of the hymenial knot as I do," said a wife to her husband. "Yes I do," he replied; "it is only when you wish to make it a double beau knot that I object to it."

"Misfortunes never come single,"
And so, like birds of a feather,
The marriages and the deaths
Are always printed together.

"You are beautiful and I adore you," said a gentleman to the belle of the evening. "For my part, I hate you, and think you frightful," she retorted. "I believe you, you frank girl. You do not tell polite falsehoods like we"

Here is a beautiful instance of conjugal affection: A married lady in Connecticut recently fell into a river, and would have been drowned except that her cries attracted the attention of her husband, who, mistaking her in the dark for another woman, worked like a beaver to get her out.

Neither God nor man expects a wife to submit to brutality, but a woman who, finding herself outgrowing her husband or disappointed in him, yet takes up the cross and, fitting her shoulders to it, bears it in silence to her life's end, has joys the world knows not of, and reaches the highest type of womanhood.—Elizabeth K. Churchill.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY EVENING, Jan. 10, 1872.

Gold in New York, 109.

Portland Legal Tender quotations, 90½c buying and 91½c selling.

The bark Harrington will have cargo in by January 23d.

The bark [illegible] was towed up to-day from Astoria. We gave her manifest in our issue of January 9th.

The [illegible] Falkinburg's [illegible] of Island Rogers is [illegible] out in fine condition. About half of it will go into bond. The salvage claimed by the tug of $6,000 will be granted by the owners of the Falkinburg and the consignee of her cargo, on the ground that the claim is just.

The steamer California is announced to leave on Jan. 23d for Victoria and Sound ports.

The fair weather for the last two days is causing receipts of Hay to be quite liberal, and with its continuance prices, without a fair demand, will recede from former rates, unless our farmers do as those in our sister State, that is, not attempt to force sales, but put their shipments in the hands of commission merchants, with instructions not to force the market, and only sell at current rates.

[illegible] advices, under date of Dec. 17th, 1871, say that American Railway Bonds show more animation, with decided improvements established in several. A good demand existed for Oregon, Kansas, St. Louis, Southeastern, Central Pacific, and the Chicago lines of railroads, with a rising tendency noted in all. In the [illegible] given Oregon and California is quoted ¼c higher than the previous week's quotations.

A [illegible] ago, on authority of an English commercial journal, we stated the Cotton crop in India was a partial failure. According to a recent number of the Times of India the crop in Turkistan is said to have failed last year. Formerly about 110,000 bales were sent to Russia, but this year only 60,000 bales have been sent. If the [illegible] of increased [illegible] consumption of Cotton by Russia [illegible] which we have no doubt of, another competitor for American Cotton will be in the field this year, causing prices here to still further advance.

During the fore part of harvest we called the attention of our [illegible] Spain, stating that that country which for the past few years has been importing Wheat to meet the home consumption, was reported as having a large surplus this season. Since then we have been [illegible] to obtain further information, until this [illegible] from Europe brings us the news that owing to the prolific character of the late harvest, large exportations of Wheat are being made to France. Meanwhile, an abundance of rain which had just been experienced gave great [illegible] promise of good crops. Our advices further stated that trade was active throughout [illegible], and the people generally doing well. The above [illegible] to the exportation of Wheat fully [illegible] out [illegible] in the early part of the [illegible] when the [illegible] Wheat surplus of Spain was placed high [illegible] to cover all of France's present requirements, as the estimated requirements of France, as made in the month of August, was in October reduced fully one half, and again a [illegible] further reduction was made, as the people were eating more roots and vegetables, and also that the crops turned out as a whole better than was at first anticipated.

English advices of Dec. 12th of further advances in Tin and Copper have [illegible] proportionate rise in the heavier branches into which these metals enter, such as Sheet Metal, Wire, [illegible], etc., and have even affected the value of finishing goods, which usually does not move with the fluctuations of the metal market. Brass founders have for the first time in five years, decided to reduce the discount from their price lists 5 per cent. all round, which is equivalent to an advance on their net prices of from 7½ to 10 per cent. Hollow-ware manufacturers have granted a reduction of 2½ per cent. in their discounts, an increase of 5 per cent. in the value of net goods, and of [illegible] per ton in goods sold by weight. Nickel manufacturers have advanced the price of that metal to [illegible] which is an increase of 25 per cent. In the past twelve months, and as a [illegible] of that rise, German Silver has advanced a penny per lb for all qualities. Similar advances are noticed in nearly all the Hardware branches and upheld as well by the excellence of trade as by the firmness of Metals. Merchants in England are reported as complaining loudly of the embarrassments [illegible] by these changes, which not only throw a large proportion of the [illegible] coming to hand at former prices out of the market, but owing to the [illegible] being so active, [illegible] to the export branch and will [illegible] on the advance which [illegible]

The London Times in an editorial thus refers to the advance:

Tin has now reached the highest price known to the oldest Tin buyers in Cornwall, and there are a few whose experience extends over half a century. There is a general opinion in well informed quarters that at present everything points to higher prices. Concerning Copper there is now a great deal of excitement. Wednesday's advance of £10 having already led to fresh operation in in some of the Cornish mines. There is no doubt that Cornwall could [illegible] the return of Copper, notwithstanding the large number of concerns that have been [illegible] the last three years.

It would appear from the remarks of the Times that the advance in Copper is not so thoroughly established as that in Tin and towards the close of the year may recede under more extensive mining. This advance in Copper may also stimulate renewed mining on this coast on a larger scale than ever before.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and others requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of young men, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid and emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this abhorred situation they sink into an untimely death to close the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies, and see that they are treated for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to all who are afflicted and to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to beware of the many pretended doctors who advertise, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these pretenders.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emission is the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by any of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the dreadful responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to patients a written instrument binding himself to give a rapid and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in a registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places were a short time ago too lazy to work at their trades. Some are bootblacks, shoemakers, newspaper carriers and vagrants, office [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco directory and you will not find their Medical [illegible] but you will find their former occupations. [illegible] look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid them is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for [illegible] physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address Dr. J. F. GIBBON, No. 623 Kearny street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 1957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1957 ON THE LETTER.
